The two draft notifications on pages 27-28 ante, are combined into one revised draft notification which is sent herewith. The amendments to sections 45 and 54 of the Factories Act, 1934, brought about by section 5 of the Factories (Amendment) Act, 1944, are to have effect until the termination of the present hostilities and will cease to have effect thereafter. Accordingly the words "Until the termination of the present hostilities" have been omitted in the revised draft notification. Upon the termination of hostilities the present notification will cease to have effect and a new notification will be necessary.

The view expressed in para 3 of the P. & S.D. office note at page 6 ante is correct to the extent that where an exceptional press of work is not the available ground, a notification under section 8 is necessary. But the provision made in the staggering order for the use of section 44(2) is intended to enable the Chief Inspector of Factories to grant exemption where the ground of exceptional press of work is not available. Such ground is not excluded by the scheme of staggering holidays.

2. The draft order at page 7 ante, as formally amended, is in order.
